5. ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION

The Company recognizes the environment as a primary value to safeguard and, to this end, it schedules its activities by seeking a balance between

The Company is committed to verify, through its structures and organizations, the application of the environmental policy; it establishes environmental objectives and targets and systems for monitoring, reporting and periodic review.

6. CONFLICT OF INTEREST

This Code of Ethics, which applies to all employees and Directors of the Company, also aims to prevent any situation that might present a conflict of interest. These include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Employee relationships – whether, in the course of everyday company responsibilities, the employee interacts with immediate family members, relatives, or other individual/supplier/vendor/customer with whom they have close personal relationships;
- Government relationships – whether an employee also acts as an officer of any government or government department, especially if linked to defence and procurement processes;
- Financial interests – whether an employee stands to gain from or has influence over any supplier, subcontractor, customer or competitor involved in business dealings with the Company;
- Other employment – whether an employee also acts as an operative, partner, consultant, representative, agent, director, or board member of another company, competitor, supplier, partner, or subcontractor of the Company.

6.1 COMPANY AND PERSONAL INTERESTS

The relationship between the Company and its Directors and employees at any level is based upon complete trust. It is the primary duty of each director and employee to use the Company's assets and their own working capacity to achieve the Company's interests, in compliance with the principles set forth in the Code of Ethics and representing the values adopted by the Company.

From this viewpoint, Directors, employees and co-workers in any capacity of the Company must avoid any situation and abstain from any action that could cause a personal interest, either direct or indirect, to interfere with and hamper the capacity to take impartial and objective decisions in the interest of the Company. Any conflict of interest would not only be in contrast with the applicable law and the principles set forth in the Code of Ethics, but also prove detrimental to the Company's image and integrity.

Upon signing the declaration that no conflict of interest exists, at the time of the start of the contractual relationship - see point 6.2 below - the Recipients exclude that any commercial activities of a personal and/or family nature they may have or their tasks and offices within the Company may overlap or anyway intersect with each other, thus giving rise to the risk of an instrumental use of their functional capacity. Any situation of conflict, even only potential, must be promptly communicated in detail to the Company – and precisely to one’s senior in line and of the Surveillance Body pursuant to Legislative Decree no.231/01. The individual in potential conflict shall refrain from being involved or participating in any act that might prejudice the Company or any third parties, or damage their image.

Similarly, consultants and commercial partners must undertake specific commitments intended to avoid any situation of conflict of interests, refraining from using, in any way and any title whatsoever, the activity carried out on behalf of the Company with a view to achieving any illicit advantage for themselves or for others.

6.2 PREVENTION OF CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

In order to prevent conflicts of interest, even only potential, the Company, when conferring an appointment or commencing an employment relationship, requires its Directors, employees and anyone who cooperates, at any title, with the company to sign a statement that excludes the possibility of a conflict of interest between the individual and the Company. Such statement also includes a commitment to inform, promptly and in detail, the Surveillance Body pursuant to Legislative Decree 231/01, of any situation of a real or potential conflict of interest the signatory is involved in.

The Company does not contract with or retain the services of serving politicians of the Italian Parliament or Government.

Moreover, the Company imposes controls to assess and regulate the employment of current and recently departed public officials in accordance with relevant law. Specifically, before hiring an employee, the HR department receives a self-declaration on the absence of any actual, potential or perceived conflict of interest.

In all cases, Company’s policy requires a cooling off period of at least three years as required by Italian law before public officials, who exercised powers of authority or negotiation on behalf of the Public Administration, are permitted to have any contract with the Company.

The Company also requires that anyone who becomes aware of a conflict of interest must promptly report in accordance with Section 10.2.

7. OPERATING PROCEDURES AND ACCOUNTING RECORDS

7.1 COMPLIANCE WITH PROCEDURES

The Recipients, within the limits of their individual duties and functions, are required to comply strictly with the procedures laid down in corporate protocols.

The correct implementation of procedures ensures that the Company staff in charge of decision-making processes, authorisation and performance of operations be easily identified: for this purpose - according to the control principle consisting in the separation of tasks - it is necessary that individual operations are carried out, at the various stages, by different parties, whose duties are clearly defined and known within the organisation in order to prevent unlimited and/or exaggerated powers being assigned to any single party. The traceability of each process regarding corporate affairs must also be guaranteed, so as to ensure that the motivations of the choices operated, the persons in charge and any other relevant data for assessing whether the correct choices have been made, can always be traced in the future.

Company's procedures must discipline the correct performance of any operation and transaction, the legitimacy, authorisation, consistency, congruity, proper recording and verification, also with regard to the utilisation of financial resources, of which must be assessable, by means of, but not limited to, the following control means: squaring off account balances, joint signatures, supporting accounting documents, understanding the activities of sales agents, consultants, suppliers, etc.. Each operation shall therefore be supported by adequate, clear and full documentation to be filed with the company records, in order to allow, at all times, a control on the motives, the characteristics of the operation and the exact identification of who, at the different stages, authorised, carried out, recorded and verified the same. The respect of the indications provided in the specific protocols regarding the procedural flows to be observed during formation, decision and recording of company events and their consequences, among other things permits to engender and stimulate at all levels in the business a culture of control, which contributes to improve management efficiency and represents an instrument of support for managerial action.

Non-compliance with the procedures of the Code of Ethics - which must be promptly reported in accordance with Section 10.2 - compromises the relationship of trust between the Company and those who interact with the Company at any title.

7.2 ACCOUNTING TRANSPARENCY

Truthful, precise, full and clear primary data are the prerequisites of transparent accounting and are a fundamental value for the Company, also with a view to ensuring that shareholders and third parties have the possibility to have a clear image of the economic, equity and financial position of the Company.

To achieve these conditions, the documentation of the basic facts must first and foremost be complete, clear, truthful, accurate and valid, and must be entered in the accounting books as justification of the records, which must be updated to allow for any appropriate checks. The relevant book entry must reflect in a complete, clear, truthful, precise and valid manner that which has been described in the supporting documentation. In the case of economic and financial elements based on valuations, the relevant book entry shall be made in accordance with the criteria of reasonableness and prudence, explaining clearly in the underlying documentation the criteria which guided the valuation of the asset.

If anyone becomes aware of any possible omission, falsification, irregularity in the books and records of the Company, or of any breach of the principles set forth in the Code of Ethics and in the specific protocols, he/she should immediately report this in accordance with Section 10.2 . The aforesaid breaches undermine the relationship of trust between employees and the Company and shall lead to a disciplinary process and consequent adequate sanctions.

Within the limits established by applicable laws, the Company shall provide exhaustive and prompt information, clarifications, data and documents required by the shareholders, clients, suppliers, surveillance authorities, institutions or bodies in the performance of the respective activities and functions. Any relevant information must be promptly communicated both to the company's bodies in charge of controlling the management of the company, and to the surveillance authorities.

Recipients are directly and personally responsible for the protection and legitimate use of the (tangible and intangible) assets and the resources entrusted to carry out their functions.

None of the Company's property assets may be used for purposes other than those specified by it or for illegal purposes and must comply with the law and regulations and the operating procedures.
